How to get to Tahlee from Newcastle

Tahlee is approximately one hour's drive north of Newcastle. Follow the Pacific Highway, bypassing Raymond Terrace and Karuah. There are two bridges over the Karuah River - 7km north of the larger second bridge is a right-hand turn to North Arm Cove, Carrington, Gooreengi Road. After turning off the highway, follow the road that runs parallel to the highway until the next sign North Arm Cove, Carrington, Tahlee and turn to the right.

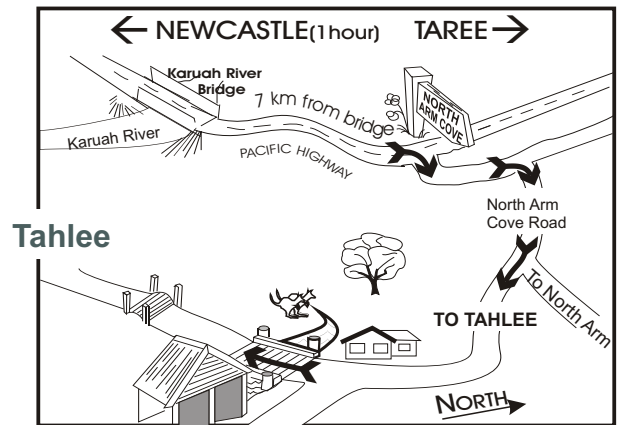

How to get to Tahlee from Bulahdelah

Tahlee is approximately 30 minutes drive south of Bulahdelah. Follow the Pacific Highway until you reach the North Arm Cove & Carrington turn-off just past "The Rock" service station. Turn left. (There is a second turn to North Arm Cove further along the road if you miss this one.) After turning off the highway, follow the road which runs parallel with the highway for a few kilometres until the next sign for North Arm Cove, Carrington, Tahlee and turn to the left.

Then whether you are coming from Newcastle or Buladelah

About 1km along, the road to North Arm Cove veers off to the left. DO NOT take this road. Instead, go straight ahead through the "No Through Road" sign. You will go through the small village of Carrington. At the bridge it becomes a gravel road and ends at Tahlee (5km from the highway)
